Manitoba Is Favored

First Snow Fall of Season In the Province Is Timely.

As It Is Likely to Stop the Onward March of the Doughbobs.

Boer Delegates to Canada Are Well Pleased With Their Visit.

Winnipeg, Nov. 3.—(Special).—There is a very heavy snow fall throughout Manitoba tonight, the first of the season. The snow will probably solve the Doughbobs problem, as the marching fanatics have predicted all along that sunny and bright weather would prevail until they reached Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Nov. 3.—"The settlement of the Transvaal depends entirely upon the Boer people now, not upon the British government," said Mr. W. J. Joste, Boer delegate to the Canadian, to a reporter. "I am quite certain that the British government will do all in its power, and is quite capable of carrying out its promises to the people, and those promises cover all that is needed to bring back a measure of prosperity to the country."

Capt. Kirkpatrick, Mr. W. W. Moore, of the Department of Agriculture, and the visiting delegates from the Transvaal, spent the entire morning in a visit of inspection to the Ogilvie Company's mill here. The whole process of milling was thoroughly explained to the delegates and the methods adopted there. The delegates appeared to be particularly impressed with the system of removing impurities from the flour, and also with the cleanliness of the mill and the orderly and systematic manner in which it is conducted. The delegates left today for Brandon. They sail from Vancouver on November 14.

The Great Lakes Dredge Company, Ltd., with a capital of $250,000, has been incorporated.

The Deputy Minister of Militia has billed Toronto with $3,822 expenses of mounted troops from Niagara to Toronto at the time of the street car strike last summer.

London, Nov. 3.—The British steamer St. Regulus, Capt. McMullen, from Shields for Alexandria, has put in at Gravesend. She reports having collided with and sunk the Spanish steamer Enebro, Capt. Delgado, from Huelva, Spain, October 22. With the exception of three members of the crew of the Enebro were drowned. The accident occurred Friday night, off Dungeness.

The captain of the St. Regulus says that when his vessel struck the Enebro he gave the order for full speed ahead, with the idea of keeping the two vessels locked together and thus enabling the crew of the Spanish ship to board the St. Regulus, but either they were too greatly alarmed to do so, or they failed to understand his purpose, and instead of climbing on board the British ship they tried to lower a boat, with the result that a number were thrown into the sea and drowned.

The Enebro sank in a few minutes. The explosion of her boilers probably killed many of her crew. The St. Regulus was badly damaged, a large hole being stove in her stem.

The Enebro was an iron steamer of 1,322 tons net register. She was 282 feet long and was built in 1898 at Newcastle-on-Tyne. The Enebro was owned by the Compania Bilbana de Navegacion, of Bilbao.

News of the Far North

Str. Rustler Burned at Juneau—Gambling House Held Up.

The Body of Another Victim of Murderers Given Up by the Yukon.

Steamer Princess May, which reached port yesterday, brought news that the little Yukon canal steamer Rustler was burned to the water's edge on the 20th. She arrived from Skagway with the mail at 1 o'clock and two hours afterwards, held these up. Sam Guss, the proprietor, who was about to put the money into the open safe, by watching his opportunity, was enabled to make his escape with nearly all the money. The robbers secured $175 and made their escape into the night. One of them, Barney Hughes, has been arrested.

The news comes from Dawson that the Yukon had given up another dead body, and from the point at which it was seen it is believed to be that of Constantine, one of the four victims of the murder of La Belle. The body was seen by the mate of the steamer Dawson on her last trip down the river, floating alongside. It was half a mile below the point that is now known as Murder Island, for the reason that that is the spot where the murders of Bonchillotte and Beaudoin had undoubtedly taken place. As soon as it was reported to the police, Major Cuthbert sent out 15 men, who are searching every nook and cranny between Dawson and the island. According to the story of the mate, the body was that of a tall man of good proportions, and was dressed in dark clothes with blue shirt. It was found close by the side of the steamer, and it is supposed that the swirl of the boat's wheel against the island had set it free from some little cove or floated it out of an eddy.

Scows and boats have been distributed at the different river crossings on the Dawson-White Horse trail by the White Pass, for the convenience of the mail and stage service during the interim between the close of navigation and the opening of the trail. The new trail is complete from end to end, and lies ready for the stages, pack trains already traversing it, taking supplies to roadhouses. An independent stage line or two is being organized for the Dawson-White Horse cut, but likely will not be put in operation until the river is solid and the rigs can travel through from end to end.

The letter from Mr. Pullman stating the plans of the White Pass follows: "It is the intention of the company to operate continually on the new overland trail from the close of navigation, 1902, until the opening of navigation, 1903. To do this scows or boats have been placed at the river crossings which are unbridged, namely: The Takhanna, 20 miles from White Horse to Yukon, at Mackay's; the Polly, three miles up from the mouth; the Stewart, about 50 miles from the mouth. Stables have been erected on both sides of all crossings. Each section of the trail between the different crossings has been fully equipped with specially built wagon and sleigh stages and each section will have its full complement of horses and drivers.

Enebro Lost in Collision Off Dungeness—Three of Crew Drowned.

London, Nov. 3.—The British steamer St. Regulus, Capt. McMullen, from Shields for Alexandria, has put in at Gravesend. She reports having collided with and sunk the Spanish steamer Enebro, Capt. Delgado, from Huelva, Spain, October 22. With the exception of three members of the crew of the Enebro were drowned. The accident occurred Friday night, off Dungeness.

The Enebro sank in a few minutes. The explosion of her boilers probably killed many of her crew. The St. Regulus was badly damaged, a large hole being stove in her stem.

The Enebro was an iron steamer of 1,322 tons net register. She was 282 feet long and was built in 1898 at Newcastle-on-Tyne. The Enebro was owned by the Compania Bilbana de Navegacion, of Bilbao.

Main Portion of the French Town Destroyed.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 2.—The town of St. Pierre, on the French Islands, has been devastated by fire. A destructive conflagration started last night and swept the main portion of the town. The governor's house, the government buildings, the court house, the building occupied by the ministry of marine, the Roman Catholic cathedral, the Presbyterian church, the schools and a number of other buildings were destroyed. It was not until the fire was under control that the fire department arrived. The financial loss will probably reach half a million dollars. There was no loss of life or serious accident.

HAWAIIAN OFFICIALS.

Several of Them in Trouble About Their Accounts.

Honolulu, I. H., October 26.—James H. Boyd, Superintendent of Public Works, returned to Honolulu by the last steamer from San Francisco and has been practically under suspension by order of the governor, since his arrival, pending an investigation into the books of the department. Secretary of the Territory, Henry S. Cooper continues in charge of the department. The matter of the $3,000 which Boyd received for road improvements, and of which there was no record in the department records, except of his receipt, and Boyd's possible responsibility for the defalcations of B. H. Wright, remain to be examined. Boyd states that he is ready to account for the $3,000.

Chief Justice Frear, of the Supreme court, has denied an application of B. H. Wright, ex-chief clerk of the Department of Public Works, for a reduction of bail from $6,000, on the second charge of embezzlement brought against him. Wright secured $4,000 bail on the first charge, but was at once re-arrested on a new charge of embezzling $4,800, and bail was fixed by the police magistrate at $6,000.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has approved the application of August Dreier, of Honolulu, forwarded to Washington some time ago, for a permit to establish and conduct a bonded warehouse for distilled liquors in Honolulu. Dreier will open such a warehouse, and it will be the first one in the islands.

The volcano Kilauwea is again showing signs of activity. Reports received from the island of Hawaii yesterday were to the effect that there were four fountains of lava in the pit of Halemaumau, and many people have hurried to the scene in the hope of seeing a display of activity.

C. P. R. traffic receipts for the week ending October 31 were $1,347,000, for the same week last year $1,210,000. The mileage for the week was 7,033 miles.

Rumors of Dissolution

Report in Montreal That Laurier Will Go to the Country.

Predictions by Liberals That Elections Will Be Held Next Month.

Mr. Prefontaine Will Get Cabinet Position—Public Works Changes.

Montreal, Nov. 3.—(Special).—It is reported here today that the Federal cabinet has practically decided upon asking the Governor-General for a dissolution in order that the country may be spared a period of suspense over the tariff. They would point to the action of Sir John Macdonald in 1891 as a precedent. Some Liberals here go so far as to set the date of elections for December 10. Nothing official can be learned here.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 3.—(Special).—Sir Wilfrid Laurier is to make another trip to Montreal, it is said, to consult his friends about a successor to Mr. Tarte. There is not the slightest doubt now that Mr. James Sutherland will get the portfolio of Public Works, and that Mr. Prefontaine will become Minister of Marine and Fisheries. A readjustment of departmental work is to be made.

The question of transportation and widening and deepening of the St. Lawrence channel heretofore administered by the Public Works Department, will be transferred to the engineering branch of the Marine Department, and that the entire administration of work in connection with the St. Lawrence will be from this in the hands of Col. Anderson, chief engineer. This change will necessitate the removal of some members of the staff of the present Public Works Department to that of the Marine and Fisheries. It is definitely settled that Mr. Flint, M. P., will be clerk of the House of Commons in succession to Sir John Bourinot.

Mr. Jules Tassier, former speaker of the Quebec legislature, will succeed the late Mr. Dechenay in the Senate.

The Ottawa city council tonight decided to present an address to Sir Sandford Fleming thanking him for his disinterested labors for a quarter of a century on behalf of the Pacific cable project, and expressing the hope shared by him that he might witness the completion of a girdling Pan-Britannic cable system, state owned, and state controlled.

In the Supreme court today argument in the appeal of McKelvey vs. Le Roi Mining company, was heard.

Messrs. Mann and Greenshields left for Victoria in connection with the Canadian Northern. Hon. W. C. Wells returned here today and will remain until Saturday.

The Colonial Conference

Blue Book on the Meeting in London Has Been Issued.

Some of the Views Expressed on Subject of Preferential Trade.

London, Nov. 3.—The blue book of the Colonial conference does not add much to what is already known, and the report on the subject of preferential trade is one of the most interesting parts of the report. In that resolution the conference recognizes that preferential trade between the United Kingdom and the colonies would stimulate and facilitate commerce, and strengthen the Empire, but it presents that owing to circumstances in the colonies, it would not be practicable to adopt a general system of free trade; that with a view, however, to promoting an increase of trade within the Empire, it is desirable that colonies which have not already adopted preferential trade should be encouraged to do so, and that the conference should give substantial preferential treatment to the products and manufactures of the United Kingdom, and should urge an Imperial grant to colonial producers and manufacturers, giving preferential treatment to the United Kingdom by exemption from or reduction of duties.

Five premiers present at the conference submitted to their respective governments at the earliest opportunity a request that such measures be taken as may be necessary to give effect to the principle of this resolution.

A memorandum from the president of the Board of Trade shows that the premiers were prepared to recommend preferential treatment on British goods as follows: Canada, the existing preference of 25 to 35 per cent, and an additional preference on selected articles by reducing duties in favor of the United Kingdom, raising duties on foreign imports and placing duties on certain foreign imports now free. New Zealand 10 per cent all round, a reduction on the present duties on British goods. Cape Colony and Natal, 25 per cent preference on British goods; Australia was not in a position to define the extent of the preference to be given.

Another resolution emphasizes the desirability of considering the refusal of the privileges of the coasting trade, including tonnage, to the United Kingdom and the colonies, and between the colonies to countries wherein corresponding trade is carried in ships of their own nationality.

The conference also adopted resolutions advocating the use of the metric system. The reservation by the government in future agreements, of the right to purchase cables and the insertion in new shipping agreements of a provision to prevent excessive freight charges or any preference in favor of foreigners.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Hallifax, Nov. 3.—(Special).—Word has been received that Lieut. Col. Anstruther Duncanson, for years commander of the Royal Artillery in Scotland, has been accidentally shot in Scotland.

Peterboro, Ont., Nov. 3.—(Special).—George Gaultier, ex-M. P. of Cobourg, was out duck shooting at Stanley lake when a barrel of his gun exploded, and his left hand was terribly lacerated.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 3.—(Special).—J. C. Martin, resident on H. C. Smith's ranch near Maple creek, was accidentally shot and killed today while out shooting, the trigger of the gun caught in a plow and the charge entered Martin's liver.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 3.—(Special).—R. P. Rithet & Co., Ltd., Montreal, have been notified that they will not renew their agreement on its expiry.

COAL COMMISSION.

Members Busy Visiting the Various Mines.

Hazelton, Pa., Nov. 3.—The anthracite strike continues to grip the entire coal field in the Lehigh valley region. While most of the commissioners were looking over the territory, Recorder Wright was kept busy on the trial of the case, the correspondence of the commission, and the sending of a copy of Mr. Mitchell's statement of the miners' case, which was filed with the commission on Sunday night, before its departure from Hazelton for this region, to all the coal companies involved in the present controversy. The statement was mailed this city, and should be in the hands of the companies tomorrow. Under the agreement made before the commission at Washington, the operators will make a reply in three or four days. The trip of the commission through this region was an interesting one, the conditions of mining being somewhat different from those existing in the Lehigh valley and Wyoming valleys. At nearly every station a small crowd gathered to get a glimpse of the members of the commission. The commissions first stop of the day was at Upper Lehigh. While in this place the arbitrators ascended to the homes of the miners, the first they have been in since they have been touring the region. Drifton was the next place visited. All the miners employed at these mines are on strike because the company insists upon the men returning to work as individuals, and not in a body. At Jeddo, John Markle, the independent operator, joined the commission. He is the owner of the mining village of Oakdale near Jeddo. Mr. Markle showed them the club house, which he maintains there for the benefit of the men. On the morning of the 3rd, the arbitrators of number 40 shaft was inspected. Messrs. Markle, Duffy and Gallagher had a spirited discussion over the difficulties existing at the Markle colliery, which has resulted in the Markle collieries have returned for the same reasons as those which are keeping the men out of the mines. Mr. Markle told them he was ready to accept the arbitration, with the understanding that the arbitrators would maintain discipline. The commissioners were lowered into the workings 350 feet below, through a 1,100 foot slope. While underground many questions were asked of miners who worked by the commissioners.

LONDON SCANDAL.

Heavy Sentences For Disrespectful Conduct.

London, Nov. 3.—The assizes over the reported flight of a peer to the continent was heightened by the announcement that a well-known London society man, Bernard Fraser, had been sentenced at the Norwich assizes to ten years' penal servitude. With him was also sentenced Arthur Thorold, the son of a clergyman, connected as is Fraser, with one of the oldest and proudest families in the United Kingdom. The prisoners were brought up for trial on a regular practice to deprive the morals of youths all over the country. An array of prominent King's counsel appeared on both sides, but the prisoners pleaded guilty. The idea of getting off with light sentences.

DIVORCED.

Mrs. Hamilton Secures One From Her Husband.

London, Nov. 3.—The Duke of Cambridge's granddaughter, Mrs. Olga Hamilton, who is a daughter of Col. Augustus Charles Frederick FitzGeorge, was granted a divorce today on the grounds that her husband, C. B. A. W. Hamilton, deserted her, and was guilty of misconduct with an unknown woman. The court room was filled with society people, many of whom were present in 1897 at the wedding of Miss FitzGeorge to a noted beauty. Among those who sent gifts and congratulations to the bride were the Prince and Princess of Wales, Mr. Hamilton is a son of Sir K. J. Hamilton, baronet, and is a distant relative of the Duke of Abercorn.

U. S. HANDS.

Amount Disposed of During Last Year.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The annual report of Ranger Hermann, commissioner of the general land office, shows that the public land disposed of by the government during the year aggregated 10,488,535 acres, an increase of 3,225,730 acres over the previous year. Of the aggregate 1,763,630 acres were sold for cash, 17,814,792 acres were embraced in miscellaneous entries, and the remainder were Indian lands. Commissioner Hermann recommends, among other things, a large appropriation, specifically for surveys in Alaska. On October 1st there were 54 forest reserves, embracing 91,173,705 acres, an increase of almost 14,000,000 acres since the last report. During the year there were 1,265 forest fires discovered, which burned over 87,700 acres. The constantly decreasing acreage of the forest is said to demonstrate the efficiency of the government forestry force.

THE DOUKHOBORS.

The stories about possible violence on the part of the Doukhobors, show a refreshing ignorance of the character and religious tenets of these unfortunate people. People who will not even restrain animals are not likely to use force towards human beings. But for that reason they are none the less a public nuisance. The contemplation of a horde of miserable fanatics wandering about the prairies of the Northwest at the beginning of winter, some of them with bare heads and feet, exposing themselves, their wives and their helpless children to starvation by cold and hunger, is a heartbreaking spectacle. The women and children have been housed and warmed, and fed, by the authorities, and show symptoms of acquiescence in the things which are normal to human existence. The men are still wandering about. Let us hope they will soon come to their senses. They must not be allowed to perish. Nature would soon avenge herself upon them and destroy their name and generation. We may not do so. They must be succored even at the expense of perpetuating a race of people with the seeds of dangerous and distressing lunacy in them, in the hope that time and circumstance will wear out their abnormal taint. Such a spectacle is one which should never have been witnessed on Canadian soil. To introduce such people into Canada was a dreadful mistake, a contamination of national character. Any minister of the Crown who would hereafter propose to introduce Russian monks of any sort, size or condition, individually or collectively, into Canada would deserve hanging as a traitor to his race. But the Doukhobors are here. We have a responsibility towards them and we must make the best of them. This extraordinary outbreak makes clear what many people are apt to forget, namely, how much government depends in the last analysis upon the principle of reason in the mind of the individual citizen.
Laws and regulations have but little effect upon people who do not recognize their justice, do not admit their expediency. You cannot make law for un-reason. You may forcibly compel or restrain action to a certain slight extent, but when civil law invades the empire instead of expressing the authority of the conscience, it is impotent. An unbalanced mind, a distorted conscience can defy all the laws that were ever made, and worst them with ease. It is well to remember how much the safety of our laws and institutions depends upon the sanity of our national character. From that it follows that into a large domain of subjects, where conscientious differences exist, and may exist without injury to any laws of constraint by the civil power should never enter. To mar liberty is so much easier than to preserve it.

A RECIPROCITY ARGUMENT.

In response to a request from a newspaper, a Minnesota miller had the following to say about free trade in Canadian wheat:

"Diversified farming, now so profitable in this State, does not give our millers enough wheat to grind; indeed, our wheat crops are hardly sufficient to feed our own population, and the duty keeps Canadian wheat out. However, for export, one of our mills has been allowed to grind Canadian wheat brought here in bond. The opportunity for wheat-growing in Canada is now so great that during the past season 25,000 Americans have gone there for that purpose. Most of them will become British subjects, I suppose. They will send their wheat direct to Liverpool, where in any case the price is determined. Their export will amount to two hundred and fifty million bushels before long. Now, that means serious competition with us. We could largely obviate such a trade difficulty by opening our doors to Canadian wheat, which has a peculiarly hard quality desirable in the milling process."

This paragraph admits that the price of the wheat is eventually determined in Liverpool. This Minnesota miller is anxious, however, that Canadian wheat should go on to the world market as American flour. He sees a very distinct benefit to himself in that proposition.
Of course he would not give Canada such an immense concession as that of having her wheat milled in the United States and called American flour for nothing. Canada would naturally be expected to allow American manufactured goods in at a lower duty in exchange.
There are four people affected by this proposal, the Canadian farmer, the Canadian miller, the American farmer, and the American miller. We can see no benefit resulting to the Canadian farmer if the price of his wheat is eventually determined at Liverpool. We can see a positive disadvantage to the Canadian miller. We do not care how it affects the American farmer, but the only one of the four for whom we can see a positive and unmistakable advantage is the man who is speaking, the American miller. All this talk about reciprocity on the American side is utter humbug. All the reciprocity wanted there is to get Canadian raw material as cheaply as possible. The amazing thing to us about this thing is that the Toronto Globe quotes this expression of opinion by a Minnesota miller with respect and approval. It says: "Of course, we should prefer to have the Canadian wheat milled on the Canadian side; but if the American duty is removed, it is probable that a good deal of wheat will find its way south, and the Canadian farmer will have the advantage of Canadian, British and American buyers competing for this product."

What particular advantage this would be we cannot understand. Of all the extraordinary positions upon tariff questions taken by the Globe from time to time this appears to us as one of the most remarkable.

A piece of property in Winnipeg purchased three years ago for $15,000, was recently sold for $30,000.

A doctor has defined kissing as "An oscillatory exercise which promoted the material happiness of microbes."

If it had not been for immigration from Quebec there would have been no increase in the population of Ontario during the last census period.

The steel mill at Sault Ste. Marie is now turning out 500 tons of steel rails per day. The town of Sault Ste. Marie contains a population of 18,000 people.

English returns for 1900 show that $7,270,000 worth of goods out of the $45,470,000 worth imported by Canada and entered here as British goods were "not the produce of Great Britain."

The Montreal Herald is a Liberal paper which has its eyes open. It says:
"But, however, we may look at the matter, it is clear that the Conservatives are for the moment in much better fighting fettle than they have been for quite a long time. It is just as well for Liberals to bear the fact in mind, and to govern themselves accordingly."

In Toronto the Hon. A. G. Blair accounted for the dullness of mining in British Columbia. Mr. Blair had better stick to his transportation dreams and stop trying to account for something which does not exist. There is a dullness in the operations of certain predatory brokers whose headquarters used to be Toronto, but actual mining for metal is more active than it has ever been in the history of the province.

Statistics of the trade between Canada and Japan show that Japan imported from Canada goods to the value of $158,000 in 1900, and only to the value of $91,000 in 1901. The chief falling off was in salted fish. On the other hand Canada's imports from Japan show a steady increase as follows: In 1897 they amounted to $1,027,000; in 1899 to $1,170,000, in 1900 to $1,450,000, and in 1901 to $1,438,000, about half the value of these imports consisted of tea, the next largest item being cotton manufactures, which last year amounted to $495,000.

Speaking at Montreal about his Western tour, Mr. R. L. Borden said:

"We hear about the West and read about the West, we understand how great an area it has in square miles for its development, but no one can realize how great Canada is in the possession of that vast heritage unless he goes into the country and sees for himself, and even then he will be hazy, he can be possibly have of the great future that lies in store for us."

Both in British Columbia and the Territories they found people willing to listen to the doctrine of protection and alive to the advantages of a home market. He and his colleagues found little or nothing of that strong free trade sentiment which they were told to expect by Liberal organs in the East.

He had told the West that he did not believe in sending Canadian raw material to the United States and then sending Canadian labor after that raw material, and then sending Canadian money to the United States to buy the manufactured products made in that country out of Canadian raw material by Canadian labor.

At a recent bankers' convention, Mr.
Forgan, president of the First National Bank, Chicago, pointed out the great economy in cash reserves that is possible under the branch system of Canada, as compared with the American system of independent banks. He showed that the Bank of Montreal, with a capital of $12,000,000, carries on its business with a cash reserve of only 15 per cent, while a half-dozen national banks of the United States, taken at random, having a capital of $87,500,000, hold 41 per cent. of cash reserve. In other words, the Bank of Montreal is able to invest 85 per cent. of its total resources, while the six American banks can invest only 59 per cent. The reason for this, as Mr. Forgan shows, is that the Canadian bank, with its 48 branches, can do its entire domestic exchange and collection business within itself, and has no occasion to deposit any of its funds with other domestic banks. The difference between investing 85 per cent. of its resources and 59 per cent., he said, was equal to a 5 per cent. dividend on the capital of the Bank of Montreal.

FATHER ALTHOFF'S THANKS.
To the Editor.
Sir—Some four weeks ago, on my return from Vancouver Island to the Mainland, the Colonist was good enough to state that my departure would be regretted by many friends made during the twenty-four years I worked on the island. Since then I have received so great a number of letters of regret and appreciation, and so large and varied is the number of signatures and contributors to this generous and spontaneous testimonial of love and esteem, that I have been compelled to feel the impossibility of making known to each and everyone how highly I value this tribute of good will towards me.
You would therefore greatly oblige me by inserting this letter as a card of thanks to all collectively.

To Induce Settlement

Deputation of Voters' League Interviews the Minister of Agriculture.

Government Has a Scheme for the Creation of Small Farms.

A deputation of the Voters' League, composed of Messrs. A. L. Belyea, R.C., C. H. Lachin and C. Laughton, waited upon Hon. J. D. Prentice, minister of finance and agriculture, yesterday to express the views of the league on the subject of settling the lands of the province. The members of the deputation, through Mr. Belyea, urged the desirability of adopting some definite scheme by which settlers from the Eastern and Central portions of Canada, as well as from foreign countries, could be induced to come to British Columbia, pointing out that one of the first necessities would be the furnishing of concise and reliable information regarding the location, quality, etc., of lands available for settlement.

Mr. Prentice assured the deputation that he and his colleagues were most anxious to promote immigration to the province, and they had had the matter under consideration for some time past. He recognized the importance of having information regarding the farming, ranching and fruit growing areas of the province condensed into a handy pamphlet, but he pointed out that British Columbia is so vast and her arable areas so broken by mountains, that it would be a very costly undertaking to attempt to prepare surveys and maps, as has been done in the Prairie provinces.

The government drafted an act last winter to create a system of small holdings (which was not reached during the session), which he thought would do much towards securing a desirable immigration to the province if it were put in force. The proposal of the act was the creation of a land commission which would seek out the most available tracts of land convenient to railways and centre of population of which the crown held title, or which, in the case of private ownership, could be purchased at reasonable prices. These lands would be subdivided into small farms of from 10 to 100 acres, and would be sold to actual settlers on easy terms of payment spread over several years. The raising of the necessary funds for the survey, purchase and administration of these lands, the government proposes to issue 4 per cent. land bonds, payable in 25 years, which would amply provide for the repayment of all the primary expenditure, and without the province losing a dollar in the transaction.

The members of the deputation expressed their approval of the proposed measure and complimented the government on having formulated such an important scheme which, they thought, would exactly meet the necessities of the situation. Mr. Lachin suggested that the government might profitably co-operate with the C. P. R. in inducing the better class of settlers from Manitoba and the Territories to visit the province during the winter season. He referred to those farmers who had secured a competent survey of the lands, and were now seeking homes in a milder climate. Mr. Prentice said the government was in communication with the C. P. R. on that and other matters pertaining to immigration, and he hoped an advantageous arrangement would be reached in the near future. Mr. Laughton spoke of the importance of securing to this province the many Canadians who were now moving from the prairie country to Washington, Oregon and California. After a general discussion of the land question the deputation withdrew, well satisfied with their interview.
